FEATURED SPEAKERS

Rob Saxton, Deputy Superintendent, Oregon Department of Education

Rob Saxton was appointed Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction by Governor John Kitzhaber in July of 2012 and was formally confirmed by the Oregon Senate on September 14, 2012. Rob is serving as Oregon's first appointed head of the Oregon Department of Education following 2011 legislation that made the Governor the Superintendent of Schools with the authority to appoint a Deputy to run the Department.

In his role as Deputy Superintendent, Rob oversees the education of more than a half-million students in over 1,200 public and charter schools. He is working closely with Chief Education Officer Nancy Golden on implementing changes to the state's education system to better align services, supports, and funding from pre-kindergarten through higher education to help the state reach its 40-40-20 goal.

Sarah Drinkwater, Assistant Superintendent, Oregon Department of Education

Sarah Drinkwater, Ph.D., obtained her doctorate in special education, with an emphasis in early childhood, in 1988 from the University of Oregon. She worked as a Research Assistant Professor at the University of Washington in early childhood special education personnel preparation, and also taught at the University of Nevada, Reno, in the College of Education.

Her public education administrative career began in the Highline School District (WA) as a special education coordinator supporting programs preschool through transition. She then moved to Federal Way Public Schools (WA) where she spent 8 years as a Coordinator and Director in Student Support Services. As a Coordinator, she managed elementary and secondary special education programs, health services, Head Start and counselor services. As the Director of the department, she also supervised ELL and Gifted/Talented programs, as well as Title I services. She was the Executive Director of Student Services with the Peninsula School District (WA) for eleven years, overseeing all Title I/Special Education/School Nurses/Early Childhood/ELL/Safe and Drug Free Schools/Readiness to Learn programs.

Dennis Embry, Senior Scientist & Founder, PAXIS Institute

Dennis D. Embry, Ph.D. is senior scientist at PAXIS Institute in Tucson and a co-investigator at Johns Hopkins Center for Prevention as well as co-investigator with the Promise Neighborhood Research Consortium, the University of Manitoba, University of South Carolina—overseeing 50 major prevention projects in the US and Canada. He is a member of the SAMHSA/CSAP experts group, and a nominee for the President's Advisory Council on Prevention for Health Care Reform. Current publications emphasize achieving sustainable, cost-efficient population-wide prevention effects across physical, mental, emotional, and behavioral disorders. He is an emeritus National Research Advisory Council Senior fellow of New Zealand.

He has personally created multiple interventions using both cultural wisdom and leading edge science to prevent multiple problems including ATOD. He is one of the few scientists to demonstrate such prevention scientifically across whole states, communities or countries.

Dr. Embry has engaged in work with First Peoples in New Zealand, the United States and Canada. He uses cultural wisdom and anthropology to inform choices of scientific strategies to better the lives of children, adolescents, families and groups. Many of his projects focus on simple strategies for families. Dr. Embry marries that cultural wisdom with findings from evolutionary sciences, from his association with the National Science Foundation initiative called the EVOS Institute.

SPED Special Projects – Work Transitions..... Bloch

Speaker: Laurie Kash, Rainier School District

Designing and defending a project proposal in a business meeting is not just for your FBLA All-Stars. Students with special needs can develop important communication skills by designing and defending their own business proposals and even products with just a little imagination and some scaffolding. Come and see quality student proposals as well as products designed and defended by students in Life Skills and Personal Management classrooms on shoe string budgets.

Data Based Decision Making Tools and Resources.....Directors

Speaker: Martha Buenrostro, Oregon Department of Education

An overview of a data portal that automatically will generate aggregate and disaggregate OAKS reports for every school and district in Oregon as well as other survey tools that assist leadership teams to determine staff PD needs.

Supervision, Recruitment & Retention of School-Based SLPs..... Hellman

Speaker: Robin Shobe, Oregon Department of Education

This presentation will give special education administrators information and resources to assist in the recruitment, retention and supervision of SLPs and SLPAs working in the k-12 setting as well as an update on emerging technologies and practices such as telepractice/telesupervision, Apps and universal licensure.

Sexual Harassment and Sexual Violence: The Intersection Between IDEA and Title IX..... Joplin/Seeger

Speakers: Claudette Rushing, Oregon Department of Education

Karin Moscon, Oregon Department of Education

Cynthia Stinson, Willamette University

During this session we will examine the April 2014 Guidance from the Office for Civil Rights, as it pertains to both Special Education and Title IX. Featured will be relevant special education and administrative implications, with preventative recommendations for schools and districts.

Accessibility: Instruction to Assessment..... O’Neil

Speakers: Brad Lenhardt, Oregon Department of Education
Melissa Glover, Oregon Department of Education

This presentation provides an overview of the accessibility supports available to students who are planning to demonstrate proficiency of the essential skills through a work sample(s) or through a statewide assessment(s).

Why RTI for SLD Eligibility: Barriers, Benefits, and Moral Imperative.....Sousa

Speakers: David Putnam, OrRTI
Dean Richards, OrRTI

A primary goal of the reauthorization of IDEA was to move to an SLD eligibility process that truly benefitted students through a focus on early intervention, service delivery rather than testing, progress monitoring, and an “assessment of a child’s response to scientifically based instruction” (A New Era, 2002). Response to Intervention (RTI) is that system. Many districts, however, have been slow to adopt this approach. This presentation will highlight the benefits to all students, especially our struggling learners. Presenters will specifically address some of the prevalent myths that can be barriers, including the issue of a “comprehensive evaluation”, legal questions, and the need to have a “perfect” system in order use RTI for SLD eligibility.

Dynamic Education Career Ladder and Leadership Training: Innovative, Quality, Job Embedded..... Studio A

Speaker: Cheryl Brown, Confederation of Oregon School Administrators

This session will provide information about the Oregon Career Ladder for Educators offered by Confederation of Oregon School Administrators in partnership with Concordia University of Chicago. The career ladder offers progressive levels of preparation and levels of advancement in the education profession. COSA offers all levels of a comprehensive career pathway: teacher leader specialization, the Initial and Continuing Administrator licenses and there is the opportunity to pursue a Master’s or Doctorate in conjunction with the programs. The presentation will include different aspects of the rigorous program and the relevant, job embedded internship. The programs emphasize instructional leadership; research based decision-making skills and the application of cross-functional knowledge and skills.

Meet Northwest Evaluation Association Studio B/C

Speaker: Holly Rasche, Northwest Evaluation Association

The key to supporting individual students is the accuracy of the data that informs our educational decisions. For our Special Education students, it is not always easy to get accurate information. At NWEA, our goal is accurate information for every child regardless of where they are performing in the curriculum. We then report that data on an equal interval scale so educators, parents and students can understand the academic growth of every child.

With nearly 40 years of experience in partnering with educators to move student learning forward through the use of accurate data, professional development offerings and research services, NWEA has grown to embrace the challenge of partnering to improve student learning around the world.

Measures of Academic Progress (MAP), our computerized adaptive assessment system, continues to be the cornerstone of our work.

SWIFT - School-Wide Integrated Framework for TransformationVistas I

Speakers: Laura Miltenberger, Pendleton School District
Julie Smith, Pendleton School District
Jessica Meisenheimer, Kansas University
Lisa Darnold, Oregon Department of Education
Patrick Kelly, Oregon Department of Education

The SWIFT approach provides promising academic and behavioral outcomes for all students because of a shared commitment to the inclusion of all students in a personalized and comprehensive manner. In addition to a brief overview of this program, we will spend a large part of this session learning from SWIFT participants from the Pendleton School District. Leaders from general and special education roles will share information about their process, challenges, and experiences while aligning their district practices with the SWIFT framework.

Legislative Update..... Vistas II

Speakers: Cindy Hunt, Oregon Department of Education
Emily Nazarov, Oregon Department of Education

The 2013 and 2014 Legislature passed a number of changes in education, This session will provide an overview and update on the implementation of these changes including interdistrict transfer, school safety, proficiency based education, the Interstate Compact on Opportunities for Military Children and school discipline.

English Learners with Disabilities: Cultural and Linguistic ConsiderationsWilder

Speaker: David Bautistia, Oregon Department of Education

In this session we will be presenting current data about English Learners with Disabilities from our state and explaining some of the educational considerations we need to take in order to support appropriately English Learners with Disabilities. The perceived lack of clarity in guidance about English learners and students with disabilities compound this issue. Leaving students, families and staff with restricted possibilities of long term success. It is important that these two fields work collaborative and use their strengths to support students and families in their K-12 journey.

Transition Technical Assistance Network: Meet your Transition Network FacilitatorWilliams

Speakers: Heather Lindsey, Oregon Department of Education
Transition Network Facilitators

To support Governor’s Executive Order No. 13-04 and to further improve Oregon’s system of designing and delivering employment services to those with intellectual and developmental disabilities, ODE has developed a Transition Technical Assistance Network (TTAN). The primary support for the TTAN will come from a Secondary Transition Liaison and eight part-time Transition Network Facilitators. Please come to meet the facilitator assigned to your county/district and learn more about the TTAN, your facilitator and the goals and objectives of the Network for this first year

11:00 to 11:15..... Break

11:15 to 12:30..... BREAKOUT SESSIONS: ROUND II

Early Childhood Positive Behavior Intervention..... Bloch

Speakers: Tim Andrews, David Douglas School District
Mackenzie Weintraub, Neighborhood House Head Start
Pan Greenbough Corrie, Mt Hood Community College Head Start
Jeanne Lemieux, Child Care Resource and Referral

Paula Zaninovich, Multnomah County Mental Health
 Nancy Anderson, David Douglas School District

Ten years ago, leaders from our early childhood care and education programs began a conversation to implement EC-PBIS across our environments. Since everyone has limited resources, it was important to implement a plan using a collaborative approach to funding, resources, and training. We also agreed to use common, evidence based training materials, and coaching within site and across sites to implement the model to fidelity. This session will focus on:

- Developing a common purpose as a collaborative leadership team;
- Developing an implementation plan;
- Sharing out model for pilot sites, including the resources and roles of staff from EC agencies; and
- Ongoing efforts to leverage resources across agencies for sustainability plans.

Oregon Online Screening Project.....Directors

Speaker: Jane Squires, University of Oregon

The ASQ Oregon online website was launched in May 2008 with funding from Oregon Department of Education as a pilot project to explore how an online version of an early assessment (ASQ) measure can be used as a general Child Find strategy for young children ages birth to five years. A Brief background and description of the project, the system and features of the interactive site will be presented along with reports on numbers of screens, demographics, results of screens and known referrals to EI/ECSE partners in the project will be featured. This session will include a report on methods to use the site and benefits that have been discovered through the project period. Participant comment/feedback, updates and future plans for the site will be shared.

Using Evidence-Based Kernels and Behavioral Vaccines to Prevent the Need for Special Education During Pregnancy and the First Years of Life Hellman

Speaker: Dennis Embry, PAXIS Institute

This breakout focuses on not well-known strategies that could substantially reduce special education needs in the first instance. These strategies will surprise the participants for their simplicity and potential.

IDEA Lessons Learned O’Neil

Speakers: Claudette Rushing, Oregon Department of Education
 Mary Apple, InterMountain ESD

Annual review of IDEA dispute resolution data, discussion of IDEA dispute resolution mechanisms, complaints by frequency and legal issue type, review of some recent due process and state complaint decisions and relevant OSEP guidance and federal case law.

RTI for SLD Eligibility: Preparation, Foundations, and First Steps.....Sousa

Speakers: Jenice Pizzuto, OrRTI
 Shelby DiFonzo, OrRTI

The benefits of using an RTI approach to determining SLD eligibility are many, research supporting its efficacy is deep, and federal and state regulations provide a clear framework for using RTI. This presentation will help participants take the first steps towards developing an RTI system in their district. The focus will be on developing infrastructure components, including policies and procedures, staff training, teaming structures, and strategies for monitoring fidelity. Participants will receive resources and tools to assist in this process. The presentation is geared towards administrators and key staff who want to use RTI for SLD eligibility.

Dynamic Education Career Ladder and Leadership Training: Innovative, Quality, Job Embedded..... Studio A

Speaker: Cheryl Brown, Confederation of Oregon School Administrators

This session will provide information about the Oregon Career Ladder for Educators offered by Confederation of Oregon School Administrators in partnership with Concordia University of Chicago. The career ladder offers progressive levels of preparation and levels of advancement in the education profession. COSA offers all levels of a comprehensive career pathway: teacher leader specialization, the Initial and Continuing Administrator licenses and there is the opportunity to pursue a Master's or Doctorate in conjunction with the programs. The presentation will include different aspects of the rigorous program and the relevant, job embedded internship. The programs emphasize instructional leadership; research based decision-making skills and the application of cross-functional knowledge and skills.

Alignment, Consistency, and Partnerships: Creating Strong Student Outcomes Through Quality Work Experiences..... Studio B/C

Speaker: Liz Baer, Transition Specialist, Beaverton School District

This presentation will share how the Beaverton School District Transition Program aligned five comprehensive high schools' work experience programs using learning targets, common prompting hierarchies, common expectations for instruction, and student data tracking through Survey Monkey. Ideas for creating and maintaining quality work experiences outside of the traditional cleaning tasks will also be provided and current work experience options for students in the Beaverton School District will be shared.

Section 504, Title II, and Students with Disabilities in Public Schools.....Vistas I

Speaker: Winston Cornwall, Oregon Department of Education

An ODE civil rights education specialist will discuss the requirements of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act, and explain the responsibilities of public schools in educating students with disabilities. He will also answer your burning questions about Section 504 and Title II.

Regional Programs for Low Incidence Disabilities: Who We Are and How We Partner to Support Student Success..... Vistas II

Speakers: Lisa McConachie, Columbia Regional Program
Diana Allen, Linn-Benton Regional Program
Melissa Glover, Oregon Department of Education

Learn Oregon's unique structure to provide education services for students identified with low incidence disabilities, birth through age 21. Low-incidence disabilities include - blindness, low vision, deafness, hard-of-hearing, deaf-blindness, traumatic brain injured, severe physical impairments, and autism spectrum disorder. The relative rarity of student with these disabilities often poses significant challenges for educators trying to meet their unique needs. Regional programs were formed to assist local schools districts and EI/ECSE providers with knowledge of how to best educate these students, of what technologies are available to assist them, and of how to obtain needed and appropriate support services. Come learn how these critical services support student success in your district.

English Learners and Students with Disabilities (ELSWD).....Wilder

Speakers: Kim Miller, Oregon Department of Education
 Martha Buenrosto, Oregon Department of Education
 Robin Shobe, Oregon Department of Education

This session will explain new guidance from the US Department of Education regarding English Learner Students with Disabilities. We will focus specifically on the IEP team's role in ELPA determinations, as well as provide information on determining eligibility for special education services for English Learners. Time will be provided for participants to ask questions and share strategies together for providing services to English Learner Students with Disabilities.

CCSS Connections to Special Education & Standards-Based IEPs.....Williams

Speakers: Patrick Kelly, Oregon Department of Education
 John Inglish, Oregon Department of Education

Participants will learn about a variety of practices, tools, and processes designed to make the Common Core State Standards more accessible for all educators. Focus on; collaborative practices, an overview of standards-based IEPs, and tools for identification of skills that support the standards and lay the foundation for instruction. Part of this session will be structured so attendees share what is working for them (speed networking) and their districts as it relates to teaching in an environment colored by the CCSS and Smarter Balanced Assessment. Participants are encouraged to bring business cards if you have them and be ready for a faster-paced interactive professional learning experience!

12:30 to 1:30..... Lunch

1:30 to 2:45 BREAKOUT SESSIONS: ROUND III

School & EI/ECSE Administrators & Staff Conversations w/ODE..... Bloch

Convergence! Tips and Tipping Points.....Directors

Speaker: Rebecca Blocher, Oregon Department of Education

Special needs and Talented and Gifted needs quite often exist in the same child creating a great conundrum for the educator. Depending on the child, the area of specific need, and the TAG identification area, the educator must be able to adapt to the needs of the child. Best Practices and Best Educator tips are sprinkled throughout this presentation.

Using Evidence-Based Kernels and Behavioral Vaccines to Prevent the Need for Special Education During Childhood..... Hellman

Speaker: Dennis Embry, PAXIS Institute

While there are multiple behavioral vaccines and evidence-based kernels that can achieve this objective, the breakout will focus on the PAX Good Behavior Game (which is being used in Oregon) and related evidence based kernels as public-health model of preventing the need for special education as well as reducing the severity of such needs.

Navigating SPR&I..... Joplin/Seeger

Speakers: Stella Brown, Oregon Department of Education
Brad Lenhardt, Oregon Department of Education

Child Find and English Learners: Helping School Teams Make Appropriate Special Education Evaluation ReferralsWilder

Speakers: Beth Hoeker-Martinez, Linn-Benton-Lincoln ESD

Leah Hinkle, Greater Albany Public Schools

Claudia Nuñez, Linn-Benton-Lincoln ESD

Each child should receive the educational supports needed for success. When an English Learner struggles to meet academic benchmarks, concerns about over-identification and under-identification for special education often influence decision-making. Providing training to general education teachers, ELL specialists, and special education teachers can facilitate the use of data to improve both instructional programs and appropriate special education referrals for English Learners. The Linn Benton Lincoln ESD and the Greater Albany Public School District collaborated to create a teacher-friendly packet to improve data-based and culturally sensitive decision-making.

Early Childhood Special Education Transition to KindergartenWilliams

Speaker: Kerry Desmaris, Redmond School District

Come to this session to learn about the Early childhood Special Education transition to Kindergarten process and the partnership between the High Desert ESD and the Redmond School District.
