

Supporting Educators with next steps in Distance Learning

COSA, in partnership with Corwin, brings you an exclusive book study event

These book study events are designed to support educators in building both our students' capacity (and our own) for distance learning through the application of Visible Learning® research. Utilizing what educators everywhere have learned over the course of pandemic teaching, we can now improve our overall strategy to adapt to any and every environment and promote effective distance learning.

This event will explore:

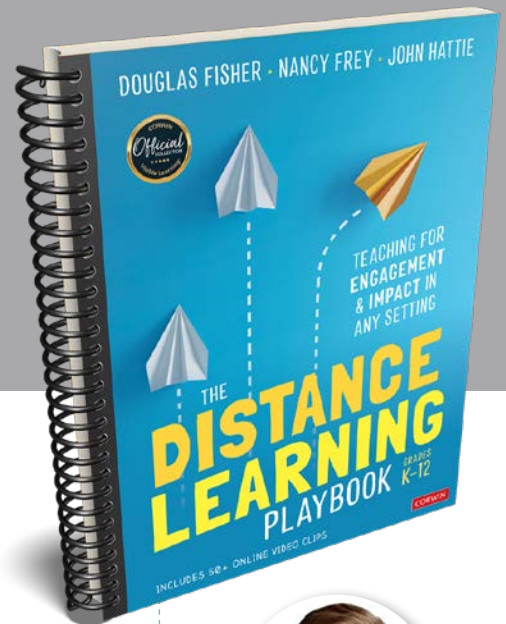

- The implementation of teacher credibility and teacher clarity in distance learning
- The design of engaging teaching and learning experience useful in distance learning
- Assessment, grading, and feedback in distance learning
- Teams are recommended to ensure collective efficiency

Keynote | Doug Fisher | November 9, 2020 | 3:30 – 5:00 pm PST

Book study Series with Dave Nagel and Nicole Law

- November 12, 2020 | 3:30-5:00 pm PST | Beyond the first Days and Solidifying Teacher/Student relationships and Ensuring Equity
- November 19, 2020 | 3:30-5:00 pm PST | Teacher Credibility and Teacher Clarity
- December 3, 2020 | 3:30-5:00 pm PST | Engaging Tasks and Enhancing Instructional Units
- December 10, 2020 | 3:30 – 5:00 pm PST | Feedback, Assessment and Grading

Total registration fee for this virtual Oregon event - $275 per registration

Douglas Fisher

Nicole Law

Dave Nagel

Distance Learning Academy

Learn more and find registration at: www.cosa.k12.or.us/events/2020-distance-learning-academy-2