

Antiracism and Universal Design for Learning: Building Expressways to Success

Presented by:
Andratesha Fitzgerald

Oregon Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development in partnership with the Coalition of Oregon School Administrators

You are invited to learn with Andratesha in a Book Study format!

Andratesha Fitzgerald, Ed.S. has worked in education for nearly 20 years. She is a speaker, author and inclusive practices implementation consultant. Her life's work is to awaken, celebrate and activate brilliance by breaking barriers and stereotypes of teachers, leaders and students to actualize achievement wherever it seems impossible.

Her new book Antiracism and Universal Design for Learning: Building Expressways to Success (CAST, 2020), is equipping teachers and leaders with the tools they need to make learning personal and possible for every child.

This Book Study will allow Oregon educators to build on their own learning while collaborating with others.
