

Strategies to Try at Home:

On-Track: Attendance (90%+)

- Continue to emphasize the importance of good attendance. Students with adequate sleep and regular attendance tend to perform better and learn more than students who have multiple absences.

On-Track: Behavior (0-1 Office Referrals)

- Continue to emphasize the importance of focusing on instruction in class and following school rules and expectations. Students demonstrating appropriate behavior tend to perform better and learn more than students whose learning is interrupted by misbehaviors.

Some Risk or At Risk: Course Work/Essential Skills

*Your child is at risk of not staying on-track to high school graduation.
Please arrange a time to conference with your child's counselor and teacher*

- Develop a schedule in the afternoon and evening that provides structure and support.
- Create a space, time and regular routine for your son or daughter to complete homework.
- Be involved in your child's school work and stay informed about what your child is learning in school.
- Provide positive reinforcement for meeting goals and expectations.
- Contact your son or daughter's teacher and school counselor to quickly identify supports (such as free tutoring, homework clubs, etc.) that can help get your child back on-track.
- Monitor your child's work through Home Access Center.
