

AT THE CORE of CLASSROOM LAW PROJECT

Education Programs for Students

CLASSROOM
LAW PROJECT®

Courthouse Experience

Students of all ages learn about the justice system and watch the law come alive through real cases and court procedures during a guided tour of the Multnomah County Courthouse and Justice Center.

We The People Competition & Program

Students test their knowledge of constitutional issues in a congressional hearing-type setting. High school students from around the state can compete at regional, state & national levels with help from volunteers. Oregon holds the record in national championships! Elementary and middle school students can participate in annual hearings at the state capitol.

Project Citizen

A portfolio-based curriculum. Students identify a public policy issue and develop an action plan to address it. Work culminates in a class portfolio that may be part of an annual showcase at the state capitol.

Law Day Conference

A conference in Portland for high school students from across the state. Workshops on legal issues concerning youth are taught by scholars, activists and other experts.

Mock Trial Competition & Program

Cosponsored by the Oregon State Bar, mock trial challenges students to assume the roles of attorneys and witnesses in a fictional trial. High school students compete at regional, state & national levels, with guidance from community volunteers. Elementary and middle school students practice their skills using classroom materials.

Street Law

Law students from Lewis & Clark Law School teach street law in high school classrooms. Lessons cover a wide range of civil and criminal issues, and emphasize the real ways in which the law applies to students' everyday lives.

Classroom Law Project is a non-profit organization that brings vital and engaging civic and law-related education programs to schools across Oregon.

Professional Development & Support for Teachers

Professional Development

Classroom Law Project offers assorted professional development throughout the year on programs including We The People, mock trial and Project Citizen. Workshops are led by scholars and experts in the fields of law and education, and range from one day to one week.

Private Consultations

Teachers can consult with civic educators, attorneys and other professionals who provide guidance and expertise in lessons ranging from civics for kindergarten students to AP Constitution curriculum. Tailored to fit individual needs.

Susie & Tyler's Current Events

Weekly information and resource materials for teachers to use in their classroom, with connections to the Constitution, state standards and the common core.

Oregon Civics Conference for Teachers

Held at the State Capitol, the Oregon Civics Conference draws teachers from across the state for an insider's view of all three branches of government and delivers classroom-ready lessons.
