The Power of Key Relationships

Students who build strong positive relationships with school staff have significant long term reductions in:

aggressiveness	substance abuse
delinquency	teen pregnancy
school drop outs	suspensions and expulsions
court adjudications	academic failure

(Hawkins, Catalano, & Arthur, 2002)

A strong positive alliance with school staff is a key aspect of the development of resiliency.

Key Relationships Cont'd

Students who build strong positive relationships with school staff showed significant increases in:

- *academic performance
- *positive social
- *improved parent relationships
- *student self-esteem
- *work completion
- *sense of safety at school

(Hawkins, Catalano, & Arthur, 2002)

The Power Of Connection To School

“When students feel they are a part of school, say they are treated fairly by teachers, and feel close to people at school, they are healthier and more likely to succeed.”

“Improving the Odds: The Untapped Power of Schools to Improve the Health of Teens.” April 2002

Connections To School

Research from The National Longitudinal Study of Adolescent Health has shown a strong association between school connectedness and every risk behavior studied.

Students who feel connected to school are less likely to use substances

Students who feel connected to school experience less emotional distress

Students who feel connected to school engage in less violent or deviant behavior

Students who feel connected to school are less likely to become pregnant

CONNECTEDNESS

"School connectedness means that students have a sense of belonging at school and perceive that teachers are fair and care about them."

Getting Results, Update 1, pp. 35-36.

Connectedness

Identify and discuss examples of strategies and programs to promote “connectedness” in your schools?

Who is impacted by these strategies and programs?

TEACHER PERCEPTIONS AND EXPECTATIONS

"Teachers' perceptions, expectations, and behaviors interact with students' beliefs, behaviors, and work habits in ways that help to perpetuate the Black-White [and Hispanic-White] test score gap."

"No matter what material resources are available, no matter what strategies districts use to allocate children to schools, and no matter how children are grouped for instruction, children spend their days in social interaction with teachers and other students."

Teachers' Perceptions and Expectations and the Black-White Test Score Gap, Ronald F. Ferguson. 2007.

TEACHER'S BELIEFS INFLUENCE STUDENTS' BELIEFS

- All children develop a belief about their own intelligence
- A group of 7th graders who had been taught that the brain can grow (smarter) had significantly better math grades than 7th grade students who had been trained in good study skills but believed they were as smart as they were going to be.

Mindset: The New Psychology of Success; Carol Dweck, 2007.

CARING RELATIONSHIPS

At my school, there is a teacher or some other adult...

- Who really cares about me.
- Who notices when I'm not there.
- Who listens to me when I have something to say.

2004-2006 weighted CHKS data 700,000 students

MEANINGFUL PARTICIPATION

At school, ...

- I do interesting activities.
- I help decide things like class activities or rules
- I do things that make a difference.

2004-2006 weighted CHKS data 700,000 students

HIGH EXPECTATIONS

At my school, there is a teacher or some other adult...

- Who tells me when I do a good job.
- Who always wants me to do my best.
- Who believes that I will be a success.

2004-2006 weighted CHKS data 700,000 students

SCHOOL CONNECTEDNESS

- Feel close to people at this school.
- I am happy to be at this school.
- I feel like I am part of this school.

Promising Practice

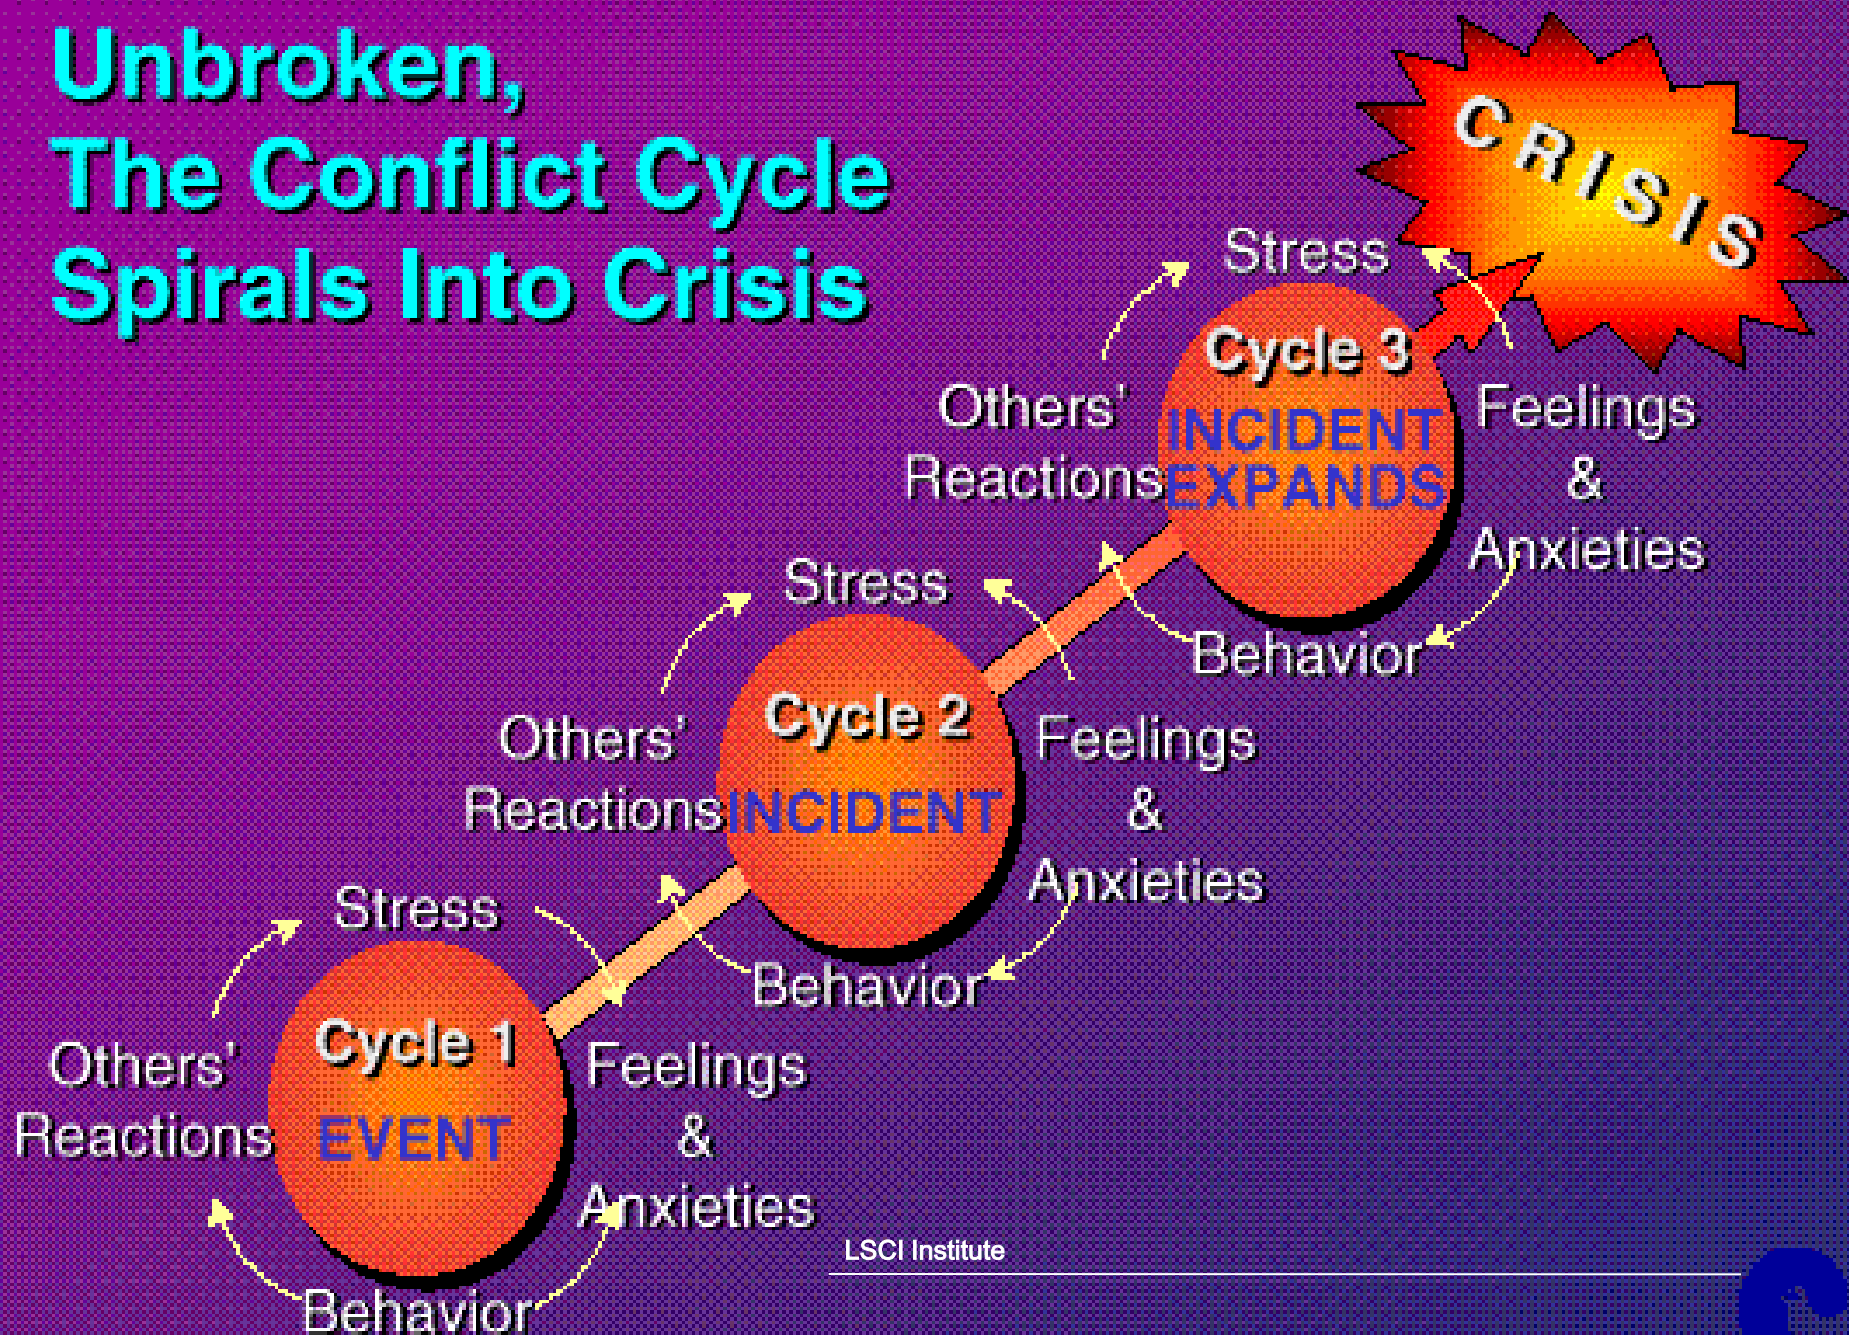

Values Affirmations

- ✓ Check most significant personal values.
- ✓ In response to prompts, write short essays on those values.

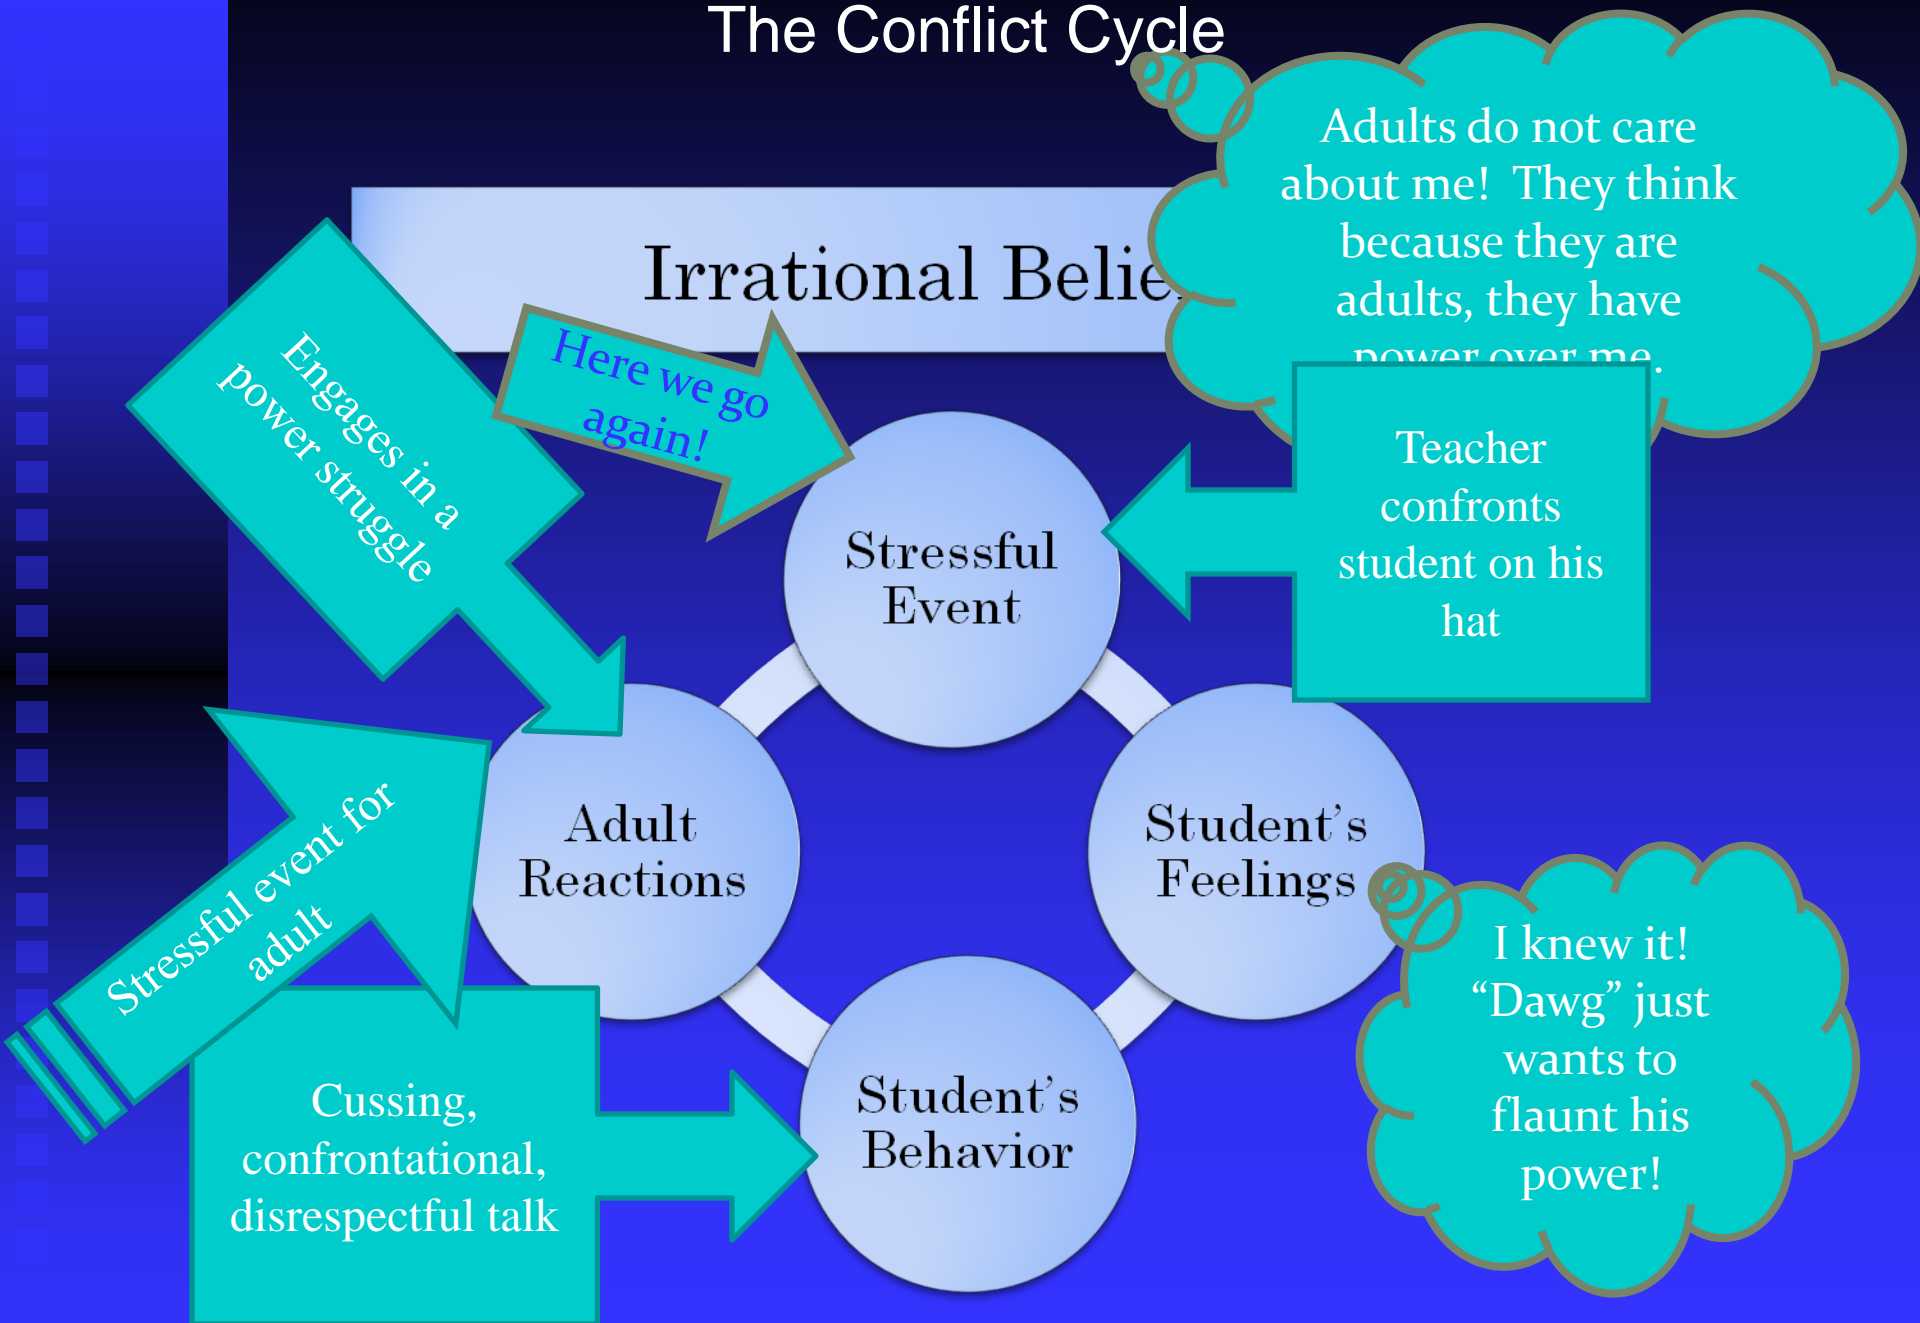

Conflict Opportunities

- De-escalation
- Relationship
- Connectedness
- Changing Irrational Beliefs
- Learning New Ways of Responding

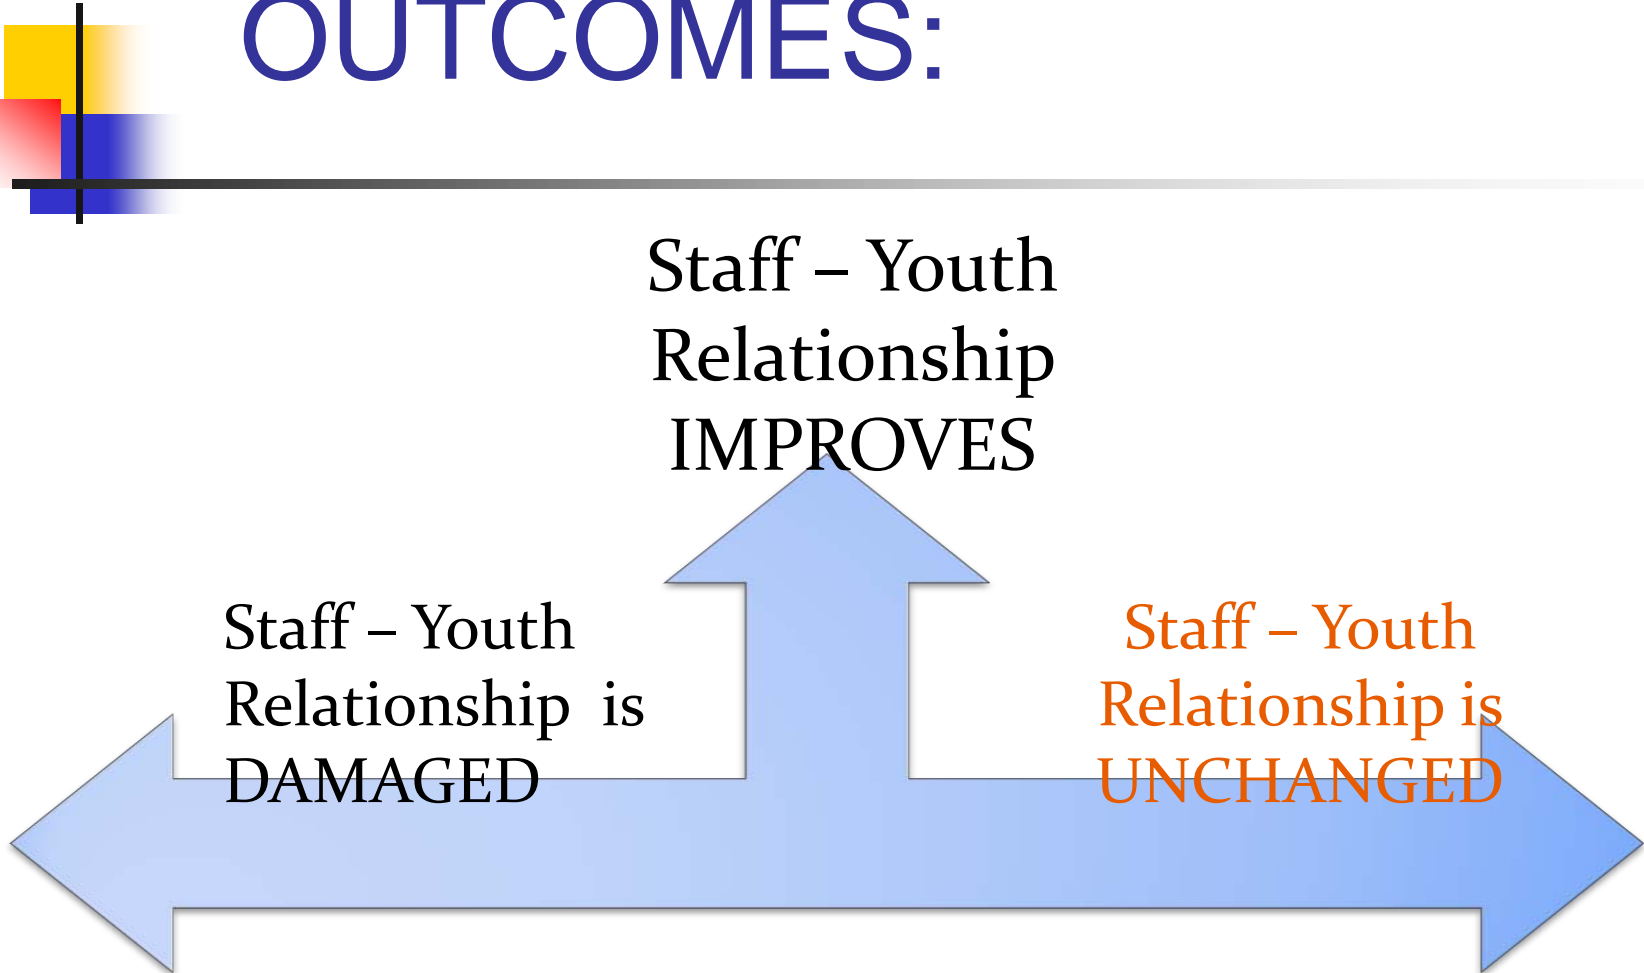

Unbroken, The Conflict Cycle Spirals Into Crisis

The Conflict Cycle

THREE POSSIBLE OUTCOMES:

THE DOUBLE STRUGGLE.....

- Each negative conflict triggers another stressful event
- Negative adult reactions reinforce the youth's belief system
- In order for the youth to change, we must change our approach.

ALL RELATIONSHIPS ARE DAMAGED WHEN THE “Double Struggle” IS PLAYED OUT

- * families
- * community services
- * law enforcement

Building Community Partnerships
