Bilingual Education

Students do not wait until they are fully proficient in English to learn grade-level academics. Teachers facilitate transfer to accelerate language and content learning.

There are clearly defined allocations of time K-12 committed to literacy instruction in L1 and in English.

There is a theoretical and research-tested approach to teaching literacy in L1 and in English.

There is a consistent district-wide body of culturally-appropriate, relevant resources available to teachers in order to provide instruction in L1 and in English.

Phase 1
Awareness/Planning

Primary Language Literacy training for Bilingual and English-Only staff.

Build master schedule showing strategic allocation of L1 and English literacy time, with more time in L1.

Primary Language Literacy curriculum mapping.

Training for literacy assessment in L1 and L2—screeners and diagnostics—identifying students’ Zone of Biliteracy.

Definitions developed for ideal curriculum.

Phase 2
Implementation

Action Menu

Dual Language Curriculum Articulation Plan (CAP)/Maintenance Bilingual CAP

Formalize process for identifying students’ Zone of Biliteracy, and access to appropriate instruction.

Teams use literacy assessments—e.g. writing samples, miscue analysis—to drive instruction in L1 and L2.
